

Healthy Schools

New Bewerley was recently awarded Healthy Schools and MindMate Friendly status with the following comments:

“The learning environment promotes healthy living and wellbeing, evident through the varied physical and emotional health messages and displays that are visible throughout the school. Everyone feels safe, cares for each other and is very friendly.”

“PSHE has an excellent profile in the school, with strong, passionate leadership and support from all members of the school community. The PSHE lead works hard to ensure every child in the school gets high quality, well planned and appropriate PSHE teaching every week. There is an inclusive approach and she works hard to ensure all pupil’s needs are met.”

“PSHE has designated time within the curriculum and is delivered to all pupils using the Jigsaw scheme of work. The PSHE lead feels the scheme works well in the school. It is mapped against the statutory guidance, has up to date and relevant content, works well covering the safeguarding curriculum and is inclusive. Pupils also enjoy the lessons very much.”

“Pupils were able to speak confidently about the different PSHE topics and the things they had learnt. They were overwhelmingly positive about the lessons and found them useful. Pupils were able to explain why it is important to teach about PSHE and how it helps them make decisions and support each other.”
